

RUNNER

Your duties as a National Ocean Sciences Bowl RUNNER include:

You will be stationed at either a competition room, the registration desk, the judging room, or Ocean Bowl Central. Your primary duties will be to carry scores, messages, or other items between your location and the other rooms. Climbing stairs may be involved.

1. If you are located in a competition room, you will be able to observe most of the competition. However, you may be asked to take completed Team Challenge Questions to the judging room, wait for them to be scored, and then bring the scored questions back to the competition room. If procedure questions arise in the room, you may be asked to relay the information to Ocean Bowl Central and return with clarification.
2. If you are stationed in the judging room, registration, or Ocean Bowl Central, you may be asked to relay messages to moderators or science judges in the competition rooms or to the NOSB coordinators at one of these three locations.
3. No training is required for this position; however, a familiarity with NOSB procedures and rules are necessary.
