

Figure 13.9 Growth of supercities (2030 population exceeding 3 million) from United Nations sources. Dashed shows slow growth in developed nations. Approximately 40% of these 120 cities are in earthquake prone regions (center column). More than 70% of these vulnerable cities are in the developing nations where earthquake resistant construction is often of low priority.