Lesson 1: What's up with the rising temperatures in Colorado cities?

We will watch a video clip that will tell us about rising temperatures in Colorado cities.

After watching the video, write down your questions and ideas about why you think cities in Colorado are getting hotter:

As a class, we will now brainstorm about our questions and ideas and write them on a Driving Questions Board.

As a group, choose three questions that you think are the most important to focus on to help figure out why these Colorado cities are getting hotter.

Write your top three questions below and then explain why you think they are important to answer:
